Drunk drivers caused 1,100 traffic deaths in Texas last year

AUSTIN – Jessica says her mom used to say that the good die young. Tragically, that saying came true while her mom was teaching her how to drive and a drunk driver failed to yield, killing her instantly and sending Jessica to the hospital. Stories like this are part of the Texas Department of Transportation's Drive Sober. No Regrets. campaign and the reason Texas law enforcement officers will increase their efforts to pull over motorists suspected of drunk driving August 19 through September 5.

On average, 1 person dies every 7 hours and 57 minutes in Texas because of a DUI-alcohol related traffic crash. Last year, 1,100 people were killed and 2,560 were seriously injured on Texas roads because someone chose to get behind the wheel after drinking.

"If you choose to celebrate the end of summer by drinking and driving, then know that police around the state will be on the lookout, will pull you over and arrest you," said TxDOT Executive Director Marc Williams. "When you drink and drive, you put everyone else on the road at risk too. These crashes are 100% preventable and can have fatal and/or serious physical, emotional and financial consequences."

Leading up to Labor Day, TxDOT is reminding everyone about the dangers of drunk driving. The campaign coincides with the national increased enforcement period sponsored by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

The Drive Sober. No Regrets. campaign is a key component of #EndTheStreakTX, a broader social media and word-of-mouth effort that encourages drivers to make safer choices while behind the wheel such as wearing a seat belt, driving the speed limit, never texting and driving and never driving under the influence of alcohol or other drugs. November 7, 2000, was the last deathless day on Texas roadways. #EndTheStreakTX asks all Texans to commit to driving safely to help end the streak of daily deaths on Texas roadways.

Bears slip in opener against Tigers 14-13

By Tyler Sutton

On a beautiful night in Gladewater, the 2022 Highschool football season kicked off with a couple of East Texas powerhouse's battling as the Gladewater Bears hosted the Dangerfield Tigers at Jack V. Murphy Bear stadium on Friday night.

Both these teams are expected to be contenders for not only their district's titles, but to go far in the high school playoffs. And if Friday night was an indication, expect that to happen.

The game began as a defensive struggle as both teams were held scoreless in the first quarter. The Bears got on the board first after Gladewater's Tyrone Maddox intercepted a Tiger's pass. The Bears Kollin Lewis then burst free with a 77 yard run that set up the Bears deep inside the Tigers 20 yard line. One play later Lewis went untouched up the middle for a 11 yard touchdown run to break the stalemate and give Gladewater a 7-0 lead. The Bears had another drive late in the second quarter where they drove once again deep into Dangerfield territory but the Tigers Tookie Kelly recovered a Gladewater fumble at the 2 yard line to keep it a 7-0 Bears lead at the half.

The scoring picked up in the third quarter when Dangerfield quickly got on the board. The Tigers Amaron Simon-Jones hauled in a 52 yard catch they set them up in Bears territory and it was capped off with 6 yard touchdown run by D'co Wright. Dangerfield went for two and it was successful to give them a 8-7 lead. Then in what was the turning point of this contest, the Bears muffed the ensuing kickoff and it was recovered by Dangerfield and three plays later the Tigers cashed in with another touchdown run for Wright, this time a 15 yarder to give the Tigers a 14-7 lead as the two point conversion try was no good. The Bears got the ball back to start the fourth quarter and quickly got back into with a 2 yard Davaunte Powers touchdown run but the hold on the extra point try was bobbled and the try was no good leaving it a 14-13 Dangerfield lead. Both teams defense's tightened up the rest of the quarter. The Bears had one last possession to try and win it, but a pass on 4th down was incomplete and Gladewater turned the ball over on downs. Allowing Dangerfield to take a few knees to run out the clock and secure the victory.

"I thought we played well enough to win" said Bear Head Coach Jonny Louvier. "When two good teams play, it usually comes down to 2 to 3 plays that make the difference in a ball game. And those plays did not go our way this time."

The Bears were led by their do it all playmaker Kollin Lewis who had 18 carries for 149 yards and 1 touchdown. Starting QB Kyrion Wilson also had a good night on the ground with 7 carries for 45 yards. Senior Davaunte Powers had the other TD on the evening for the Bears. He finished with 8 carries for 48 yards.

The Bears will hit the road for the first time in this 2022 season this Friday night at Mount Vernon. Kickoff time is 7:30 at Don Meredith stadium. The Tigers beat Ford last Friday night 48-28. Makenzie McGill led the way with 259 yards of total offense and three TDs, while QB Braden Bennett threw for 11/20 for 251 yards and four TDs.

The 2022 Union Grove Homecoming court was announced at this week's Lions pep rally. The court includes: Junior duchess Faith Woodall, Sophomore duchess Meredith Morgan, Freshman duchess Natalie Woodard, and Senior queen candidates Gracie Winn, Chloe Staley, Sumeet Mattu, and Mackenzie Arden. Indictments handed down by grand jury

By Phillip Williams

The Upshur County Grand Jury last Thursday returned 22 indictments, including eight which were sealed, and no-billed three cases, said District Attorney Billy Byrd.

Defendants, charges and bond information in the open indictments returned in Gilmer were as follows, Byrd's office reported:

Jaden Wayne McAlister, 20, of Gilmer, was charged in one indictment with two counts of aggravated assault--threaten with deadly weapon--and in another indictment with evading arrest/detention with vehicle, all last Oct. 23.

He made bonds of $50,000 on the two-count indictment and $25,000 on the evasion charge.

Jeannie Reann Creswell, 26, of Gilmer, evading arrest/detention with vehicle on July 2. She remained in county jail at Gilmer under $5,000 bond.

Michael Edward Pepper, 32, of Ore City, deadly conduct on May 23, 2021. He made $5,000 bond.

Preston Drake White, 24, of Diana, retaliation on July 9, 2021. He made $3,500 bond.

Jeffrey Mark Headrick, 50, of Ore City, possession of controlled substance (methamphetamine) on May 8, 2021. Bond was set at $50,000, but he was released to Marion County to face charges there.

Kamran Dashay Davis, 21, of Diana, theft of property of the value of $2,500 or more but less than $30,000 on April 30, 2020. He made $25,000 bond.

Lisa Dolyn Cox, 55, of Fort Worth, theft of property (of) less than $2,500 with two or more previous convictions on Aug. 21, 2020. She made $10,000 bond.

Sawyer Zane Lacaze, 30, of Gilmer, theft of property (of) less than $2,500 with two or more previous convictions on Feb. 24, 2020. A $5,000 bond was set, but he was released to Titus County to face charges there.

Charles Anthony Miller Jr., 27, of Mount Pleasant, assault/family violence with previous conviction on June 2. He remained in county jail under $35,000 bond.

Brian Everett McMorris, 45, of Gilmer, aggravated assault with deadly weapon on July 11. He made $35,000 bond.

Dale Alan Peck, 45, of Gilmer, assault/family violence--occlusion on June 16. He made $35,000 bond.

Paul Edward Hart, 35, of Longview, assault/family violence--occlusion on June 20. He remained in county jail on other charges.

(No amount of bond was listed on Hart's new charge inasmuch as he was not specifically in jail for it, and District Clerk Karen Bunn's office had, as of Monday, apparently not sent a warrant to the jail to be served him on that charge.)

Kevin Dwayne Bryant, 33, of Gilmer, aggravated assault with deadly weapon on July 24. He remained in county jail under $75,000 bond.

Identity of anyone charged in the sealed indictments wasn't revealed since no arrest had been made in those cases, said Byrd.

They included one each for assault on peace officer, robbery, tampering with oil/gas rigs, unauthorized use of vehicle, theft of controlled substance of less than $150,000, injury to a child, a single indictment on one count each of "aggravated assault--threaten with deadly weapon" and deadly conduct, and a single indictment on two counts of harassment of public servant.

OPINION/COMMENTARY

Smallest moments greatest gift ...

Our very short lives are made up of moments and the smallest of these can sometimes tell the story of a lifetime. Saturday was my Mom's 88th birthday. To celebrate we took her to Caddo Lake to have lunch with her favorite present that day, her oldest grandson Josh.

As I watched her watch him, I had one of those revelatory moments. Our life's greatest moments aren't to be found in the moments where we have succeeded greatly, or won prestigious awards. Our greatest moments are when we have loved well and been loved.

This messy, heartbreaking world can be transformed into a joyous place because of the love that fills the cracks of our brokenness. When we have been fortunate enough to have a foundation of healthy love to build our lives on, there is a limitless supply of what we need to live that life with strength and joy.

I caught one of those revelatory moments in a picture of Mom and Josh that I will cherish for years to come. Her love has created a heritage for our family that is generational.

This woman, Mary Juanita Brown loved my dad, her partner for 63 years passionately. She has mourned the lack of his presence in her life since she lost him in 2010. She fought almost 41 years for the health of her oldest son who was severely handicapped until there was nothing left to do but love and wait. She raised her daughter to be independent in thought and action, and to be accountable. She raised her youngest son to be gentle and kind.

She has lived her faith forcefully and concretely, and modeled hospitality of home and heart. This woman, who is one of the smartest people I have ever known could run a school as secretary, raise her children, be the primary caretaker for multiple generations, teach Sunday School and Bible studies, AND work as a ranch hand for dad almost simultaneously. But the most important thing she did besides love her children, grandchildren, son-in-heart and daughter-in-heart unconditionally? She believed in us and taught us to cherish each other. And that my friends is one of the greatest gifts of all.

Flooding prompts disaster declaration

Heavy rains through Texas last week caused flooding, particularly in the Dallas area, prompting Gov. Greg Abbott to issue a disaster declaration for 23 affected counties. Texans who were affected by the rain, which dumped more than 10 inches in Dallas, are encouraged to file insurance claims with their providers and to complete the voluntary Self Reporting Damage Survey issued by the Texas Department of Emergency Management by visiting damagedem.texas.gov. The survey helps the state identify damage across Texas to gain an understanding of what areas were affected during the recent severe weather.

Counties included in the disaster declaration are Camp, Culberson, Dallas, Duval, Ellis, El Paso, Henderson, Hopkins, Hudspeth, Kaufman, Kerr, Live Oak, Marion, Montague, Navarro, Pecos, Rains, Smith, Tarrant, Upshur, Van Zandt, Webb and Wood. Additional counties could be added as damage is assessed.

Burn bans lifted; fire danger drops

The heavy rains across a chunk of the state have reduced the wildfire risk, with the Texas A&M Forest Service for the first time in months not responding to any active wildfires. The number of counties with burn bans has dropped to 166. At its high point, 224 counties in the state were under burn bans.

The number of counties under extreme or exceptional drought has dropped as well. The percentage of Texas in the "exceptional drought" category dropped by more than half to 12.4%, according to kut.org.

Battleship Texas headed to Galveston for repairs

The Battleship Texas will leave its home at the San Jacinto Battleground State Historic Site on Aug. 31 and make its way to the Galveston Shipyard for repairs, weather and tides permitting. A livestream video of the departure will be available to the public on the Battleship Texas Foundation's YouTube channel and Facebook group page.

The former U.S. Navy battleship was launched on May 19, 1912, and saw action in World War I. It also escorted war convoys across the Atlantic during World War II, fought at Normandy on D-Day, and provided naval gunfire support in the Pacific during the Battles of Iwo Jima and Okinawa. The ship was decommissioned in 1948.

While in dry dock, the ship's hull will be repaired or replaced from four feet above the waterline down to the bottom, thanks to $35 million in funding provided by the 2019 Texas Legislature. The grand reopening of Battleship Texas is expected to be sometime in 2024.

Coastal policyholders protected by emergency rule

An emergency rule issued by the Texas Department of Insurance will protect Weston Property & Casualty Insurance Company policyholders who live along the Texas coast. Weston, a Florida insurance company licensed in Texas, is in liquidation and has been ordered to end its operations by Sept. 7, possibly leaving Texas policyholders in danger of not being covered against wind and hail damage.

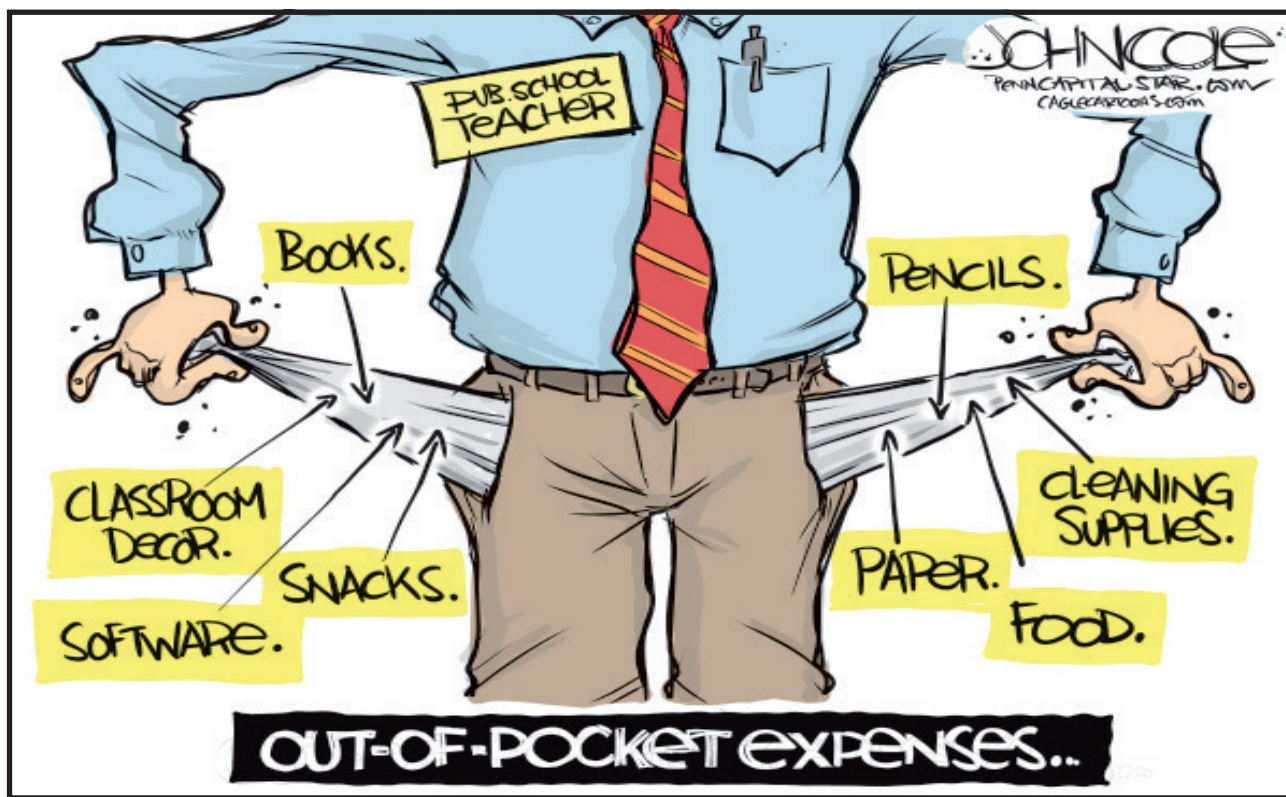

More than 23,000 Weston policyholders live in possibly affected areas, according to TDI. They will be eligible to be insured through the Texas Windstorm Insurance Association for free for three months, after which a payment plan can be set up. Homeowners are encouraged to work with their insurance agent to find coverage.

Conditions heating up for dove season

An especially scorching summer might make it trickier for dove hunters with the season opening just around the corner.

"Hunters will likely see larger concentrations of birds at watering holes and food sources than they have in the past due to limited resources," said Owen Fitzsimmons with Texas Parks & Wildlife. "Agriculture production has been hit hard by drought so birds may be more reliant on native foods this September. Look for stands of common sunflower, croton and other native annual forbs and grasses."

In general, dove season begins on Sept. 1, depending on the geographic zone. Go to the TPW website at tpwd.texas.gov for specific dates.

Lone Star Literacy ...

Literacy is essential to many daily activities, and its importance to individual wellbeing can hardly be overstated. In an era of workforce shortages, it is rapidly becoming an economic imperative. The Program for the International Assessment of Adult Competencies (PIAAC) defines five levels of proficiency. Adults who are "Below Level 1" can, at best, read brief texts on familiar topics and locate a piece of specific information, with only basic vocabulary knowledge required. Levels 3 and above allow greater comprehension and application and are generally consistent with being able to perform some type of technical or professional labor.

Currently, 28% of Texans have very limited skills (at or below Level 1) compared to 22% for the United States. Rates are substantially higher in parts of the state, with some counties having as much as 70% of the adult population at or below Level 1. For these individuals, it can be difficult to navigate daily life, much less obtain a well-paying job.

The proportion with literacy skills at or above Level 3 is 40% in Texas, significantly below the national rate of 48%. Such skillsets are virtually nonexistent in some counties, while others have over 60% of residents with Level 3 or higher literacy. Simply stated, 60% of Texas adults lack the basic capacity to be part of the state's skilled workforce. Literacy rates in Texas are also well below those in many of the most competitive states for quality corporate locations and expansions. With the increasing need for skilled workers, this deficit will become increasingly detrimental in the years to come.

Insufficient workers with Level 3 literacy can slow economic growth; overall earnings and related business activity are also reduced. We estimate that, when multiplier effects are considered, the total economic cost to Texas of the shortfall in adults with Level 3 literacy in 2020 includes -$16.4 billion in annual gross product and over -186,000 jobs. Without intervention, these losses are projected to rise to -$67.5 billion in annual gross product and about -766,000 jobs by 2050.

If Texas achieved a Level 3 concentration equivalent to that of the nation as a whole by 2040, the economic benefits would include $15.3 billion in annual gross product and 174,000 jobs. If outcomes on par with those of the five best-performing states were attained, gains rise to $41.1 billion in yearly output and 465,800 jobs. These enhancements escalate over time.

Improving literacy would enhance the quality of life and opportunities for those directly affected while simultaneously increasing productivity and economic activity. Many jobs require proficiency, strong demand is expected in the future, and improving skills in this area will better position Texas to meet expanding workforce needs. Let's do it!

Stay safe!

THE FOOLISHNESS OF ATHEISM # 1

Ron Reagan, the son of the late President Ronald Reagan, proudly touts his atheist credentials in a TV ad for the Freedom From Religion Foundation. The ad states: "I'm Ron Reagan, an unabashed atheist, and I'm alarmed by the intrusions of religion into our secular government. That is why I'm asking you to support the Freedom From Religion Foundation, the nation's largest and most effective association of atheists and agnostics, working to keep state and church separate, just like our Founding Fathers intended." He then ended the ad with a wry smile, saying, "Ron Reagan, lifelong atheist, not afraid of burning in hell." I certainly do not want a government religion, but unlike Reagan, I'm alarmed at the intrusions of atheism into our government. The Freedom From Religion Foundation seeks, to not only keep God, religion, and the church separate from government, but it seeks to do away with God, religion, and the church altogether. The atheist unabashedly says: NO GOD! government or otherwise.

President Abraham Lincoln said on March 30, 1863: "We have been the recipients of the choicest bounties of heaven; we have been preserved these many years in peace and prosperity; we have grown in numbers, wealth, and power as no other nation has ever grown. But we have forgotten God. We have forgotten the gracious hand which preserved us in peace and multiplied and enriched and strengthened us, and we have vainly imagined, in the deceitfulness of our hearts, that all these blessings were produced by some superior wisdom and virtue of our own. Intoxicated with unbroken success, we have become too self-sufficient to feel the necessity of redeeming and preserving grace, too proud to pray to the God that made us." "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord" (Ps.33: 12). "Righteousness exalts a nation, but sin is a reproach (shame or disgrace) to any people" (Prov. 14: 34).

How sad that our nation is fast forgetting God. He is more and more being pushed out of our governmental affairs, and from the hearts of our people. Righteousness is becoming very scarce in our country which is known for its belief and respect for God. Think on these things. (More about this next week).

Perry files as write-in candidate

By Phillip Williams

Robert Perry filed Monday of last week as a last-minute write-in candidate against Republican incumbent Jay W. Miller in the Nov. 8 general election for Upshur County Precinct 4 commissioner.

Perry, 51, of Ocelot Road, filed with County Judge Todd Tefteller's office near the 5 p.m. deadline for running as a write-in, said Tefteller's secretary, Kristin Culberson.

Miller, 46, seeks re-election to a second four-year term and was unopposed in the March 1 Republican primary.

Perry sought the GOP nomination for the commissioner post in 2018, but failed to make the party's runoff in which Miller defeated James Still.

Perry said Tuesday of last week he had thought of running again and "it just kept eating at me that I need to run." He said the main issue in the race "is just to ensure fiscal responsibility and economic development."

A former Gilmer ISD bus driver who goes by his middle name, Perry is owner of Maui Trucking, a dirt-moving operation.

Miller said Tuesday "I have no idea" why his opponent is running. "I'd be interested to know," he added. Miller, who resides on Machen Lane, owns a storage business, rental properties, and also buys and sells land.

Memory course set

The Texas A&M AgriLife Extension office in Gilmer is planning a six-lesson course to help older adults "identify ways to improve memory."

The "Master of Memory" six-lesson series is scheduled from 1 p.m to 3 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 21, and Thursday, Oct. 29, at the Gilmer Area Senior Center at 206 Silver Alley.

A pamphlet provided by Julie York, Upshur County extension agent for family and community health, said the course is designed to help senior citizens "understand how memory works" and "pinpoint things in everyday life that may affect memory."

The pamphlet itself offers such tips as solving crossword puzzles, making lists, taking notes, and always putting one's keys or remote control in the same place to avoid misplacing them.

The United States Department of Agriculture is offering a drought relief program to qualified livestock owners and contract growers, announced Joyce Williams, district technician for the Gilmer-based Upshur-Gregg Soil and Water Conservation District No. 417.

The USDA's Farm Service Agency is administering the program. Williams said those interested should contact the local conservation district (903-734-8732), which will put them in touch with the FSA's Tyler office.

The "Livestock Forage Disaster Program" is, in part, for those with covered livestock, and who also produce grazed forage crop acreage (native and improved pasture land.)

Relief is limited to $125,000 per person or legal entity.

The first grade classes at Gladewater Primary received a special visit on August 24th from important community leaders as part of their study on rules and authority figures at home, school and in the community. Principal Kerry Hradecky, Superintendent Dr. Cedric Clark and Mayor Scott Owens spoke to several eager classrooms and shared the details of their positions and importance of their roles. The Gladewater Primary first grade teachers believe it is important for students to understand who our community leaders are because we "want our students to aspire to greater heights. Interacting with our local leaders will show them that they too will be leaders on a local scale and possibly on a national scale too. At Gladewater Primary School, we teach a growth mindset where we believe anything is possible with hard work!"

FBI encourages businesses to stay vigilant for cyber threats

DALLAS – Companies and business entities, including government, private sector and non-profit organizations, of all sizes throughout North Texas should remain informed about and vigilant of persistent malicious cyber intrusions and sustained cyber-related threats.

The FBI continues to see a significant number of cyber-attacks against private sector companies, critical infrastructure and government agencies. The schemes are typically perpetrated by sophisticated criminal organizations and their methods vary from basic phishing campaigns to supply chain attacks, intellectual property theft and ransomware attacks. The goals include disruption to single business or an entire industry with global implications – the stakes could not be higher.

Our Cyber mission is to impose risk and consequence on global cyber adversaries. The FBI's work is most effective when a company first identifies signs of a breach and engages us on day one so we can work together during incident response, mitigate an ongoing threat and ultimately pursue subjects behind attacks. We use our unique authorities and global capabilities to navigate the increasingly complex cyber ecosystem.

The Dallas Division is prepared to respond to cyber incidents 365 days a year. We have squads of cyber-trained Special Agents, Intelligence Analysts, Computer Scientists and other technical personnel ready to engage, assess, investigate and respond to cyber threats. Our goal is to bring stability to companies in crisis. While a company may experience a type of incident for the first time, it's likely the FBI has seen related activity and can rapidly share expertise.

Business considerations for cyber security incident preparation

- Develop a relationship with your local FBI field office before an intrusion.
- If you haven't already, develop a formal incident response plan, and incorporate notification to the FBI in that plan.
- If you have a plan in place, ensure your local FBI cyber team is included, and rehearse the plan often.
- Finally, report the compromise. Whether you experience a breach, or your team identifies something out of the ordinary, share that information early with the FBI.

Engaging with the FBI

- Early FBI engagement is critical to success. It allows us, along with our subject matter partners, to provide the highest level of support to those affected by cyber incidents:

- More than 600 of the Fortune 1000 companies are a part of the FBI's Domestic Security Alliance Council.
- More than 80,000 professionals in the United States workforce are a part of the FBI's InfraGard program.

Our Recovery Asset Team (RAT) acts quickly to help victims recover funds that otherwise would be lost in sophisticated scams targeting financial transactions. In FY2021 the Financial Fraud Kill Chain (FFKC) was activated to successfully freeze more than $328 million to facilitate funds being

Noted economist addresses local business summit

By Phillip Williams

Noted economist M. Ray Perryman told an area organization's business summit in Gilmer last week that Upshur County will probably establish a hospital or 24-hour emergency room "when you get enough population to support it."

That was among numerous economic-related topics which Perryman, whose column appears in The Gladewater Mirror, addressed in his 85-minute presentation as keynote speaker at the Upshur Area Business Roundtable's meeting. Dozens attended the event at the Gilmer Civic Center.

Perryman, an Odessa resident and chief executive officer of The Perryman Group in Waco, discussed the current soaring inflation, saying it is caused by "too much money chasing too few goods" from the supply chain.

He blamed that on the fact that "people got a little extra money and they've been cooped up for a year and a half" due to COVID, so they spend too much on too few available items.

The nation will have "long-term inflation" for spending $3 trillion, "but that was the price we had to pay," Perryman said. Still, he said, the nation won't have the double-digit long-term inflation it had in the 1980s, which was "institutionalized."

"This is not an institutionalized inflation. This is a bunch of weird stuff happening at once," he explained. Since oil is in plastics, cosmetics and pharmaceuticals, oil prices rising "ratches up" through the entire economy, he said.

"We're making very steady progress" on the supply chain problem, the economist maintained, but predicted it will last six months. He said the problems include inability to obtain grain from Russia and Ukraine, problems in the oil industry, and shutdowns in China.

"We buy a lot of inputs" which the nation couldn't get into ports, Perryman noted. He added, however, that while computer chips are now made overseas and thus don't come in cars or refrigerators, three chip plants are planned in America and "this area is in a good position to capitalize on those."

While he said the federal government had to spend considerable money during the COVID pandemic to prevent people from starving and businesses from vanishing, "my problem is" that $1 trillion was spent during 11 years of expansion. Thus, many people received a governmental check they didn't need for child care, he asserted.

He projected the Longview statistical area's employment rate will grow about two percent in the next five years, and said Upshur is doing better than other places in the area, although many of its residents are driving elsewhere to work.

UT regents approve $100M for Texas School of Medicine

The University of Texas Board of Regents approved an allocation of $100 million in Permanent University Fund bond proceeds over the next 10 years that will help fund capital expenses associated with the start-up of the Tyler School of Medicine at the University of Texas at Tyler, publicity officials announced.

"The opportunity for the regents to invest again in this once-in-a-generation opportunity to improve the quality of life and health for the people of East Texas is gratifying," said Kevin P. Eltife, Chairman of the UT System Board of Regents. "We are equally as focused on the future of the medical school as we are on the present, and we enthusiastically await the arrival of the first class of medical students in Tyler next summer."

Capital projects funded over the next decade will ensure the new medical school has the right environment in place to draw and retain exceptional medical school faculty and students, as well as enhance biomedical research and core residency programs.

"The Board of Regents has once again reinforced its commitment to the health of Texas at every possible opportunity," said UT System Chancellor James B. Miliken. "This latest allocation reflects the emphasis on East Texas as a vital region for high-quality medical education and health care delivery, and today's decision by the regents represents yet another demonstration of their commitment."

State Board of Ed. Chairman speaks

By Phillip Williams

State Board of Education Chairman Dr. Keven Ellis gave a wide-ranging overview of the board's work to a public meeting of Cherokee Rose Republican Women near Gilmer on Monday night last week.

Gov. Greg Abbott appointed Ellis, of Lufkin, as chairman of the 15-member elected board in 2019 and re-appointed him in 2021. Ellis, who is District 9 board member representing 31 counties, said SBOE functions range from helping manage the state's Permanent School Fund to reviewing textbooks and formulating what will be taught in Texas public schools.

He said his talk would center around "hot-button issues," and went on to discuss topics ranging from sex education and controversial school library books to the content of social studies courses.

In Texas, he noted, parents must sign authorization for their child to have sex education, and the curriculum is required to teach that "abstinence must be the preferred behavior," although there is some content on contraception.

A committee in a school district determines the curriculum there, Ellis added, but districts "can't teach comprehensive sex education," which "encourages sexual activity." In Texas, "we teach refusal skills" related to sexual acts, he added.

Permissible sex education begins in eighth grade, and Texas is among only five states where "you actually have to opt your child in" to take it, Ellis noted.

He also pointed out that in Texas, the public has the right to look at any school's curriculum, so parents can see "anything taught in the classroom."

Ellis also said the board wanted to get away from material connected to "Gay Pride Week" as "we need to fix that one." Referring to such matters as LGBTQ pride week and the GLBTQ legal advocates and defenders organization GLAD, Ellis said "To me, the central things for our kids to learn is not about advocacy groups. We teach our kids to respect all children"--not under a "brand" like LGBT, he said.

Addressing another issue--controversial books in school libraries--Ellis said that while "ultimately, the buck stops with local school boards" on curriculum, those trustees don't determine what books are in libraries.
